THE LEGISLATURE.

SLIM ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS IN THE HOUSE.

The New Land Agent to get Three Thousand Dollars Per Annum—Appropriation Bills Passed.

THIRTIETH DAY, JULY 20TH.

THE REPRESENTATIVES.

After recess yesterday afternoon the House resumed consideration of the appropriation bill and the item of $1800 for telephone connection between Pohoiki and Hilo passed.

Rep. Kumaoha moved that an item of $500 be inserted for the purpose of opening a roadway from Smith's Bridge to Vineyard street.

Rep. Winston was in favor of letting the matter alone, as the government contemplated extending Maunakea street.

Rep. McBryde thought the road was unnecessary, as the Maunakea street extension was sufficient. He would vote against the item.

Rep. Bond said he had made a personal investigation of the proposed road and could not see the necessity for it. He would vote against any appropriation at present.

After further discussion the motion was withdrawn.

The item in favor of Iolani College passed.

The item of $5000 for the Citizens' Guard was brought up for reconsideration and after some discussion was finally passed.

Act 15 concerning diseases of animals passed the third reading.

Senate Bill 5 appropriating $8300 for internal improvements was read the first time and referred to the Finance Committee.

Senate Bill 6, appropriating $54,600 for supplementary expenses of the government, passed the second reading.

The House then adjourned.

TODAY'S SESSION.

Speaker Naone called the House to order at 10 o'clock this morning, nine members only being present. After prayer and reading of the minutes the reply of the Minister of the Interior to the question propounded by Rep. McBryde was read. It simply states that the building is being erected under the orders of the Minister of the Interior and the supervision of the Superintendent of Public Works as a protection for the pumping plant and that the building is being erected by day labor. No explanation is given as to why the job was not let out by contract.

The Speaker appointed the following special committee to investigate certain expenses of the Police Department: Kaeo, Robertson and Richards.

The bill relating to appeals from the District to the Circuit Court was taken up. After a good deal of useless discussion the bill was referred back to the Judiciary Committee.

Attorney-General Smith called attention to the immense expense entailed in engrossing bills, and advocated the printing of all bills instead, as being much cheaper, convenient and accurate. The Land Act cost nearly $180 to engross whereas it could have been printed for about $30 and 100 copies furnished instead of one. He hoped the joint committee would take action on the matter. The Minister further stated that the present practice in the Congress of the United States was to print all bills and send them to the President in that shape for signature.

The bill appropriating $54,600 for salaries and pay rolls, which passed its second reading yesterday, came up on the order of the day.

Attorney-General Smith moved to insert an item of $2000 salary of land agent at the rate of $3000 per annum, stating that the land agent would be practically at the head of a new bureau and as such entitled to the same salary as other heads of bureaus. The item was adopted, after which the Attorney-General and Representative Rycroft indulged in a discussion on roads in Puna, Kona and elsewhere as a sort of sideshow, at the conclusion of which the bill passed by ten votes and the amendments were ordered engrossed and sent to the Senate.

The Senate Act to prevent foot binding was read the first time by title and referred back to the Senate, the certificate not showing the date of its passage.

Rep. Kaeo got in a slap at the Senate by referring to the slack manner in which its engrossing, etc., was being done.

Senate Act 14 to exempt canals and its products from taxation was read the first time by title and passed. The rules were then suspended and the bill read a second time and passed and made the special order for Monday.

Senate Bill 8 appropriating $102,780.28 for supplementary expenses of the government was read the third time, together with the amendments adopted by the House yesterday, amounting to $23,700 was read the third time and referred back to the Engrossing Committee.

At 11:50 the House adjourned to Monday.

FAREWELL SUPPER.

Hawaiian Lodge Entertains Its Visiting Brethren.

The members of Hawaiian Lodge No. 21, F. and A. M., entertained the visiting Masons at the Arlington hotel last evening. The dining room was tastefully decorated and tables were laid for forty guests. After discussing the many good things provided by Landlord Krouse, Col. Soper called on Congressman S. G. Hilborn of California for a few remarks. Mr. Hilborn was also called on and in the course of his speech took occasion to present Hawaiian Lodge with a handsome gavel made of California woods. The usual toasts then followed. Col. Soper acting as toast master.

Those present were CW Filkins and wife, FN Heath and wife, F A Conant and wife, Mrs. M A Heath, F F Collins, wife and son; Mrs. M E Field, Hon. S G Hilborn and wife, Miss Hilborn, T C Porter and wife, Andrew Brown and wife, C Williams and wife, Joseph Little, Dr. M E Grossman, J W Jones, Miss Keough, Mrs. Renner, Mrs. Krouse, C L Crabbe and wife, S Louison. Captain Griffiths, E A Towse, M Phillips, M N Sanders, Col J H Soper, Miss Soper, Representative E E Richards and F L Hoogs. The banquet was the happy idea of Mr. Richards and a few others.

It is reported that Captain John Good of the regular forces is to be made Jailor of Oahu Prison, and James A. Low, the present Jailor, to be made Deputy Marshal.

There is a rumor about town that one Johnson, who used to be employed on the Oahu Railway, is detained on Maui by the authorities to ascertain what he knows about the opium supposed to have been landed by the yacht Norma.

COLLECTOR UNDER A CLOUD

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS AT HILO REPORTED SHORT.

Son of a Senator the Official Whose Accounts are Being Experted by Customs Officials.

J. B. Castle, Collector General of Customs, and Thomas E. Wall, bookkeeper of that bureau, are at Hilo on serious business. Upon their departure a contemporary stated that something was wrong with the accounts of the collector of customs at Hilo. That official is Charles Notley, son of one of the Senators from the island of Hawaii. He was employed in the office of the Honolulu Water Works before receiving his commission for the more lucrative office in the rainy town. Mr. Notley was one of the first men of some native blood to come out in favor of the Provisional Government, and his appointment to the collectorship of the second port in the country was easily attributed to that fact.

Some little time ago the police authorities of Hilo took notice of the mode of living of Collector Notley, which was apparently on a scale corresponding to about double his salary. It is true that he occasionally earned some money by a job of surveying, also a trifle by interpreting in the courts, yet this fact did not altogether disarm suspicions that everything was not square in the Hilo customs office. A lawyer was consulted and the sheriff of Hawaii was notified with regard to the suspicions, with the result that the matter was brought to the attention of the Collector General of Customs. Hence comes the present visit of that official to Hilo, accompanied by an expert accountant of his bureau.

Nothing definite is obtainable at present, and perhaps the result of the investigation will not be divulged—unless a member of the Legislature puts a question to the Minister of Finance—but it is common talk in Hilo that the customs revenue there is about four thousand dollars short. It is probably not more than the amount secured by the delinquent official's bonds, yet the case ought to be a warning to the Government against the dealing out of important offices as political rewards.
